Darlene MacDonald works with all Aboriginal students attending the U of R, First Nations University of Canada, Luther College and Champion College. Aboriginal students can access job posting on line through Place Pro (an on-line job board). Many Aboriginal students become part of the Full Circle Summer Internship Program, where they work directly with Darlene to improve their work-ready skills. It is through this program that we match students into meaningful summer placements and to continue the valuable learning and to put real life experiences to their classroom work.

The Aboriginal Human Resources Council was formed in 1998 as a national not-for-profit organization with a mandate to advance the full labour market participation of Aboriginal Peoples in Canada and Indigenous Peoples around the world. The council creates and markets a wide range of products, services and networks that help Indigenous people advance careers and organizations create inclusive workplaces that position them as employers-of-choice.
