Biography – Jeremy Pittman

Jeremy Pittman is currently a PhD Student in the Department of Environment and Resource Studies at the University of Waterloo. He has a background working at the intersection of climate change and water issues in Canada. Mr. Pittman has been previously employed as a Climate Change Adaptation Specialist with the Saskatchewan Water Security Agency (formerly the Saskatchewan Watershed Authority) and as an Agroclimate Analyst with Agriculture and Agri-Food Canada. In both these positions, Mr. Pittman developed, managed and implemented projects related to drought and excessive moisture preparedness within Canadian jurisdictions (e.g., Saskatchewan, Manitoba, Alberta) and watersheds.